

Wentworth-Kemper Football Game Thanksgiving Day

W. M. A. 13; K. C. University 12
The Wentworth football team came back yesterday and showed the old-time Wentworth spirit for the first time since the Warrensburg game, the first of the season. The Kansas City boys had taken undue liberties with Wentworth's goal and had crossed it twice during the first three quarters. In the third quarter things began to happen Wentworth's way. The cadets made two touchdowns and kicked one goal. K. C. having failed in both instances for a try at goal, were left one point behind. Wentworth was penalized world without end, and only by hard fighting were they able to over come these penalties. Come on, Kemper! Wentworth will take a lot of beating.

In the Next War.
In the next war a man won't have much say as to whether he cares to ride in an airplane. If a man is wounded, he will likely be carried to a hospital by the aerial route. We await now to hear some one dub this a removal of personal liberty.—The watch on the Rhine.
